

Name: _____ Date: _____

Radiology Pre-Test

1. CT and MRI dyes are identical. True or False
2. Lead shielding is worn when in a room with a patient during a radiological exam. True or False
3. Ultrasound is an extremely noisy test and requires ear protection for the patient. True or False
4. Verification with two identifiers is necessary before all radiological exams. True or False
5. Patients receiving an injection of a nuclear isotope are in isolation for 24 hours. True or False

Name: June Baker Date: 4-16-13

Radiology Post-Test

1. MRI is a quick test and frequently used in emergencies. True or False

2. Special Procedure exams are vascular studies that are frequently accomplished through an arterial puncture site requiring a pressure dressing to the site after the procedure. True or False

3. Patients with pacemakers or cerebral aneurysm clips may have MRI's. True or False

4. The three important words to remember in Radiology are: Time, Distance and Showering. True or False

5. CAT Scans frequently include an injection of an iodine based contrast. True or False

