

Week #1 Small Group Continuum:
Jane Hyché

I definitely lean more toward the role of the teacher as the partner in their learning; however I also believe small group is an opportunity teaching content through direct instruction. I feel it is very important to have a balance of these two.