

I would like to think that I fall into the support partnership as it relates to one of the contrasting climates. I have worked with preschoolers for the past 9 years. I enjoy engaging and extending the students in activities, lessons and conversations. Small group time activities are a time to present new ideas and material to model, observe and engage students. As a lifelong learner my goal and objective is to be the best version of a support partner for my students. I want to learn new and more strategies. I have a strong desire to grow and develop in this and other areas to support my students.
