

- From Jace's viewpoint shared control is why he is so engaged with the activity. He is able to express himself and share his creativity.
- Each day before Large Group begins, I like to get out the song book to indicate to the children that Large Group Time is about to start. In the song book is the name and letterlink symbol of the child who gets to pick the song. They pick the song, everybody sings it and then we begin our activity.
- We will begin learning about the nursery rhyme Humpty Dumpty. An activity that is planned is to build a wall so children can reenact the rhyme. Instead of the teacher(s) building the wall, I'm going to divide the class into teams of 2 and 3 and have them build their own. They will need to decide on what material to use for the wall and then build it together.
