HighScope Course Evaluations — End-of-Course Survey

To continually improve HighScope courses and facilitators, we are asking learners to participate in our evaluation process. You will be given an opportunity to evaluate this course and facilitator at the end of the learning event then again two months after the learning event's completion. Your participation in these surveys helps to refine the course and evaluation process. All personal identifying information will be removed from results.

We are providing you with a copy of the end-of-course survey to preview the questions before beginning the learning event. Please keep the questions in mind as you complete the learning event. You are welcome to download a copy of the survey to take notes throughout the learning event, if you find that helpful. At the end of the learning event, you will receive another reminder about the survey. During the last week of the learning event, you will receive a link to the survey from research@highscope.org, use the link to access the survey and complete.

In two months, you will receive an invitation to complete another survey designed to measure the impact this learning event had on your practice.

If you have any questions about HighScope's course evaluation process, please contact me at jbeal@highscope.org.

We greatly appreciate your participation.

Thank you,

Jeff
