

The teacher allowed him to choose how he would do the movements while still encouraging group to March to the new song She allowed him self expression while maintaining activity. She gave them a fun way to to go to cubbies.

I like to let children help tell story during large group time. Sometimes we make a new story from an old story. Using magnet characters or puppets. I would like to try some of music ideas in large group.