

Indya Graham

On the continuum I fall under supportive. I love to work alongside my students and model for them so they can see how things should be done. During Small Group Time, supportive teachers scaffold each child's learning and make the activity worthwhile and appropriate for all. I plan to continue this during my small groups.