

Where I'm at on the Continuum?

In my preschool classroom, I feel like I am in the middle of the spectrum. There will be times that the children have complete control like Laissez-faire. Overall, I do feel like I lie within the supportive category in the continuum. I like for things to be in order but I also want them to have the control.