

I am currently working in a head start program with ages range from 3 to 5. I find myself a hard worker and able to assist each child in my class. Each day I find myself giving more and more of work and being very confident. I am enthusiastic to take this course to help with my teaching but it is overwhelming and not enough time to finish the class assignments. Also I finish work at five and it's hard for me to do anything at home while watching my elderly mom.
