Week 1 Dropbox Reflection

After some reflection, I believe I lean towards Supportive Partnership with a touch of Laissez Fair. We have a lot of freedom, choice, and autonomy within our program. I tend not to interject in children's conversations unless someone is struggling, I feel the conversation is heading toward inappropriateness, someone is being unkind, or I am invited in by a child. I do not do my own paperwork or ignore the students as in a Laissez Fair leaning teacher.

I will make a concerted effort to engage more in the conversations of my students, and use the opportunity to scaffold and model.
