

- 1.) Your GPA affects your auto insurance: if your student and you get insurance from one of the top insurance companies they have a discount for students. When applying and you do not have a higher GPA you will not get a discount.
- 2.) It can get you your first job: when getting out of school and you trying to get a good job, in order to get the job you're seeking the employer ask what's your gpa and if your gpa is not to their liking you will not get the job.
- 3.) It can affect you from getting a scholarship: if you want to attend a top university and your GPA is not suitable for the university it will affect your ability to attend.