

DeWit: Fundamental Concepts and Skills for Nursing, 4th Edition

Chapter 17: Infection Prevention and Control in the Hospital and Home

Open-Book Quiz

NAME: _____

1. Name and describe the stages of the infectious process. (See page 234 in your textbook.)
2. What are the two premises underlying the current system of isolation? (See page 236 in your textbook.)
3. Why are the elderly at greater risk for infection? (See page 237 in your textbook.)
4. When treating patients, when do you implement Standard Precautions and Transmission-Based Precautions? (See page 236 in your textbook.)
5. According to CDC guidelines, in what order do you don personal protective equipment? (See page 239 in your textbook.)
6. Summarize the guidelines for specimen preparation and transportation. (See page 239 in your textbook.)
7. When transporting the isolation patient, what precautions are recommended? (See page 240 in your textbook.)
8. While a patient is in transmission-based isolation, how can you prevent sensory deprivation? (See page 243 in your textbook.)
9. List the three main modes of occupational exposure to blood-borne pathogens. (See page 243 in your textbook.)
10. What must you do when it becomes apparent that a break in surgical asepsis has occurred? (See page 252 in your textbook.)

