Ethical Principles for Nurse Managers 2020 ✓

1 hr

- Work through each aspect of the module ✓
- In a Paragraph Form do the following activities ✓
 - In the medical field there are seven different ethical principles that are followed. I have witnessed each principle being practiced during my clinical experience. The principles are as follows, respect for persons, respect for autonomy, beneficence, nonmaleficence, veracity, confidentiality, and distributive justice. All ethical principles should be used when caring for clients. As nurses we are expected to provide care at a high and fair level.
