4) What are some things you have learned today that you will use in your practice?

Being more aware of family when they're present.
Also knowing which labs to be aware of.

Suggestions:

What are the top three nursing actions related to the dying patient-specific to the patient's cultural needs?

- Private room for family & patient
- Contacting priest

Who would you, as the nurse, consult to assist during the scenario?

- Allowing family to stay w/ patient
I would consult case management & social worker. Also RT & other nurses if I needed help.

How can I adapt my nursing practices to be more responsive to the unique needs of diverse patient populations?

Communicate with the family & patient to help accommodate for their needs. I would be conscious of any needs they'd have.

How can I adapt my nursing practices to be more responsive to patients with death and dying process?

Be aware of their needs & requests. Also being there for the patient & family to support them.

What impact does NOT complete the specific death, and dying practices affect the patient? You as the nurse?

The hospital? Healthcare as a whole? Nurses' job to contact providers to establish death/dying wishes prevents the completion. Hospitals not following the patient's wishes & healthcare not be culturally competent prevents completion.

Once the debriefing period is over you will then complete a reflective activity and turn in to the instructor.

Reflective Activity

What are the major take-home lessons for you today?

It's hard to be attentive to both the patient & their family if the family is arguing.
