

The Legacy Project: Camp New Hope

Camp New Hope provided my group and me with a wonderful experience. We were able to interact, play, and care for campers one weekend during our last semester of nursing school. It opened my eyes to see how much special needs affect the daily lives of many, and nurses need to be aware of them and their families' needs. We also researched articles to find further information on connecting nursing, Camp New Hope, and research. Camp New Hope will forever impact my life and remind me to always take the extra time as a nurse for special needs patients and their families because they need extra help and advocating. The Legacy Project allowed our group to explore those in need in our community and take action.
