- Domain X: Personal, Professional, and Leadership Development

Background

Therapeutic communication is a fundamental component of nursing and is a complex concept. Ensuring positive encounters between nurses and patients is essential for improving the quality of nursing interactions, the performance of various nursing duties, and meeting patients' diverse needs (Abdolrahimi et al., 2017).

This assignment will help students feel comfortable initiating conversations with older adults and raising awareness of older persons' wishes, expectations, resources, cultural traditions, and strengths.

Additional Guidelines:

- Plagiarism will result in a zero on the assignment.
- Follow the directions within each graded section.
- A template for the interview process is provided below.
- No late work will be accepted. Late work will earn a zero.
- All assignments must be completed in Microsoft Word.
- PDF and other formats will not be accepted.

Step One: Interview process:

Step One: Directions: Each student will independently complete the Therapeutic Communication Gerontology Assignment. Students will select an older adult to interview. The interviewee may be a family member, and the interviewee does not have to be a patient. Interviews can be face-to-face, virtual, or by phone. Each interview should be a minimum of 20 minutes. Students should ask a minimum of FIVE question. Example questions are listed below. Students can phrase the questions in a conversational tone. A student may ask a question not listed below but must write down additional questions in the interview process chart provided. Students are to complete the Interview Process Chart per chart directions.

Example Interview questions:

1. What are the most rewarding things about getting older? Is it a lifetime of knowledge?
2. What are the most important lessons you have learned in your life? Ask to hear the stories behind those lessons.
3. Who has influenced you the most?
4. If you could go back to any age, what would it be? Would they stay the age they are now or go back? How far back? What was life like at that time?
5. What was your first job? How about your favorite?

Step Two: Interview Evaluation-Reflective Activity

Step Two Directions: After interviewing an older adult, students are to complete a self-reflective evaluation. Answer all FOUR questions listed below. Complete in full sentences with proper clarity and mechanics. Follow rubric for full guidelines.

1. What are the major take-home lessons after interviewing an older adult?

The main takeaway from interviewing an older adult was that one should not waste so much of their life worrying. Many times, we steal the happiness of today by worrying about tomorrow. It takes longer to feel like a comfortable "adult" than when one thinks when younger. Hearing that thirty and forty-year-olds feel like they do not have life figured out created feelings of anxiousness.

2. How can a nurse adapt their practice to be more responsive to the unique needs of an older adult client?

Nurses can adapt their practice to be more responsive to the needs of older adults by taking the time to listen to their questions and concerns and explicitly asking their preferences.

3. In what way is a student building their nursing skills by interviewing patients, including older adults?

The student builds nursing skills by interviewing patients, including older adults, by gaining therapeutic communication skills. The best way to have good therapeutic communication in nursing is hands-on practice.

4. Reflect on one question and expand on how the communication could improve.

Question 4 asked, "Who influenced you the most"? Follow-up questions are to be used to get more of an explanation. The back story of why her children were the most influential in her life would provide more information.
