

Legacy Project Summary: Camp New Hope

Camp New Hope was an experience we will never forget as a group. Together we were able to aid in caring for the campers, interacting with them and their families, and seeing a different side of nursing. This experience allowed me to view the daily life of special needs individuals and how difficult it can be. In the end, the moments that made the experience all worth it were seeing the excitement and happiness radiate from the campers as they were there. Camp New Hope opens up the discussion to the nursing world of what more we can do in the community for these individuals and their families. My group's research also provided more information on how I can care for this population of individuals differently. This project allowed us to expand our minds about what is in the community and what we can do to aid in health promotion.
