Assessment of Client/Family (5 points)	Nursing Diagnosis & Goal of Teaching (5 points)	Interventions (5 points)	Methods/Teaching Tools (2 points)	Evaluation (3 points)
Level of motivation for learning: The patient does not show great motivation for learning as evidenced by noncompliance with medication therapy, dietary restrictions, and health regimens. Barriers to effective learning: The patient is a veteran and may have developed maladaptive habits related to deployment, which can impair changes in internal motivation. Health beliefs/values: The patient's health beliefs and values are unable to be assessed at this time. Psychosocial development: The patient lives with his daughter and granddaughters which suggest that he has developed adult relationships at some point in his life. Cognitive development: The patient is an adult, with no history of cognitive impairment. His cognitive development should be appropriate for age.	Nursing Diagnosis: Ineffective health management related to congestive heart failure as evidenced by Mr. Smith's noncompliance with prescribed dietary restrictions. Goal of Teaching: The teaching will focus on reinforcing the patient's current knowledge on	Intervention 1: During stay at the hospital, the nurse should ensure that the client is involved in making food choices (Phelps, 2020). The patient's diet should still be within the prescribed dietary restrictions. Intervention 2: Encourage the patient to be proactive in healthy behaviors related to congestive heart failure (Phelps, 2020). This will help the patient gain an internal motivation to change. Additionally, the research done by Çitlik-Sarıtaş and Dural (2020) suggests that compliance with self-care is correlated with less hospitalization and better quality of life. Intervention 3: Help	Method 1: Discussion will be utilized to enhance the patient's knowledge and compliance. Method 2: A nutritional handout will be given to the patient to provide adequate guidance on diet.	Discuss how the client/family received the teaching: Ideally, the patient will be receptive of the teaching and will express desire to comply with prescribed dietary modifications and medication regimen. Identify strengths/weaknesses of the client or family in receiving teaching: The patient and family will listen closely to the nurse's teaching. The patient may not be as receptive due to psychosocial history and history of noncompliance. Suggest modifications to improve teaching plan (what would have improved the plan?): The teaching plan can also involve teaching the family members to keep the patient accountable regarding his dietary restrictions.

		the patient establish a plan and set goals regarding diet compliance (Phelps, 2020).
