Level of motivation for learning: The patient is eager and has a great attitude to learn. Barriers to effective learning: The patient should be focused and alert with no distractions in order to complete the teaching. The patient didn't show any impairments that would hinder his education plan. Health beliefs/values: The patient wants to get better and values the life he has and all his accomplishments. Psychosocial development: The patient seems very knowledgeable, in good spirits, and eager to learn. Cognitive development: The patient seems very well. I didn't notice any impairments with his cognition. His cognition appears to be normal for his age.	Nursing Diagnosis: At risk for recurrent pneumonia related to COPD as evidence by recent pneumonia (Phelps, 2020). Goal of Teaching: The goal is to understand the importance of taking care of oneself and to recognize the signs and symptoms of infection. Some common signs and symptoms of infection include a cough that may produce greenish, yellow, or bloody mucous, fever, shortness of breath, rapid shallow breathing, sharp or stabbing chest pain that gets worse when you deep breath or cough, and confusion in older people (Association, 2022).	Intervention 1: The patient will use deep breathing and coughing exercises (Phelps, 2020). Intervention 2: The patient will know the signs and symptoms of infection and when to get treatment (Phelps, 2020). Intervention 3: The patient will increase his fluid and nutritional gains (Phelps, 2020).	Method 1: The nurse would use a discussion approach when discussing the risk of recurrent pneumonia and shortness of breath. Method 2: Another approach the nurse would use is the hand-out method. The nurse would print out some education on the risk of pneumonia and shortness of breath and present it to the patient and let the patient keep the packet.	Discuss how the client/family received the teaching: The patient was very accepting. He understood and acknowledged the importance of preventing pneumonia and knowing his triggers that can cause shortness of breath. Identify strengths/weaknesses of the client or family in receiving teaching: The patient has a great support system. His stepson and wife are very involved with his care. The patient talked very highly of his family. Suggest modifications to improve teaching plan (what would have improved the plan?): To improve the teaching plan I would have tried to keep the patient more focused on the task at hand and not get distracted so easily. I would then give extra time at the end if needed if he wanted to continue to talk or ask any more questions.
