

Legacy project reflection

1. How does the clinical site relate to Population/Global Health?

This clinical site relates to population/global health because Crisis Nursery is for the community, and it is there to help families who are experiencing a crisis and need the necessary help to be financially, physically, or emotionally stable by assisting in childcare.

2. How were you an engaged nursing professional today?

This student nurse visited Crisis Nursery and did a tour with Lauren, who discussed the importance of Crisis Nursery and how it benefits families in need. This student nurse also asked questions to understand what sort of crisis a family needed to be in to be able to receive assistance.

3. How did you contribute to the service of the community today?

This student nurse and her peers volunteered at the crisis nursery by helping fold clothes and separating them by size and age from girls and boys. We also helped by going through many boxes with brochures in them. The staff was behind on many things, so they relied on volunteers to come in and assist them in a time of need. The staff appreciated us assisting them because they needed the help.

4. Name 3 ways this clinical site impacts the community health?

This Clinical site is impactful to community health because it allows families to bring their children to a safe space where they are well-fed, cleaned, and taken care of by staff who are trained to do so. This clinical site also impacts community health by being in an area where so many families need them; because crisis nursery does not require families to pay, it is easier for the family not to feel like they are burdened financially.

5. Name 1 way this site could better serve the community and why?

This clinical site could better serve the community by getting people to know about their services. Many people may not know about this clinical site because they advertise it little in the community. They should do gatherings in the community so that people know they have help before they experience a crisis in their home.

6. What health risks are experienced by the population served by today's clinical site?

The health risk experienced by the populations served in this clinical setting is a common cold; the staff is working with smaller children, and kids usually put things in their mouths and place their hands everywhere that are not clean, so germs spread. Children must receive proper immunizations, so they are protected against other viruses.
