1. Discuss how you are feeling so far in clinical?

I'm really enjoying my clinicals this semester. I am getting to do a lot of "nursing" tasks and learning how to apply my skills to the real world. I have been with preceptors that are great teachers and do not get annoyed if I ask questions. I'm also slowly overcoming my weakness of vomiting but may not ever be fully over it. It's baby steps.

2. What have been good experiences?

I really enjoy the ED or ACU department because its where I can really practice my skills that I am learning. I finally got to do an IV and it was fun. I got it on my first try on a hard stick patient! I was so happy. I do like the 4th floor, but its not what I want to do when I become a nurse. Jun has been amazing preceptor. She makes it fun, and she really explain what is going on.

3. Have there been any bad experiences? Could be you arrvous about a skill or communication?

I have not had a bad experience. Even the first time in the ED and my preceptor did not really show my anything, but I was able to start pushing medication.

4. Do you need to talk with anyone in private to discuss clinical?

I do not.

5. Is there anything else you would like to mention?

I have no additional comments or concerns. I'm excited to see what else I get to experience in my clinical rotations.
