

Topics To Review - Incorrect

Apply the nursing process through use of the clinical judgment functions while caring for at-risk and vulnerable populations.

No remediation material

Analyze the individual and social factors that contribute to vulnerability.

No remediation material

Explain the nursing role when caring for at-risk and vulnerable populations.

No remediation material

Topics To Review - Correct

Apply the nursing process through use of the clinical judgment functions while caring for at-risk and vulnerable populations. (5 items)

Barriers to Receiving Health Care

Caring for a Client Who Has Been Diagnosed With a Mental Illness

Identifying Primary Prevention Strategies

Priority Action When Caring for Vulnerable Populations

Reinforcing the Importance of Screening for Colorectal Cancer

Analyze the individual and social factors that contribute to vulnerability. (5 items)

Assisting With a Presentation on Vulnerable Groups

Identifying Client Need for Social Work Referral

Identifying Clients Who are Members of Vulnerable Populations

Identifying Social Determinants of Health

Preparing an In-Service About Vulnerable Populations

Explain the nursing role when caring for at-risk and vulnerable populations. (5 items)

Decreasing the Risk of Depression For Older Adult Clients

Identifying Greatest Risk Factor for an Adolescent Who is Pregnant

Prioritizing Client Care Following Assessment

Priority Action to Take Following a Suicide Attempt

The Nursing Role with Vulnerable Groups