Clinical Reflections: Windshield Survey/Community Assessment

See the grading rubric below:

1. How does this project relate to Population/Global Health?

This project relates to population and global health by showing how the population living in the town may be affected by external factors. These include the living environments, possible stressors, and health concerns. Also included in this project were the main cases of death in the area and an assessment of why that could be as well as birth and death rates. Through this project we were able to assess how a population may be affected by some of the same health concerns.

2. How were you an engaged nursing professional during this project?

I was an engaged nursing professional by arriving on time in proper uniform. I remained professional throughout my time in the town. I worked with my team members to ensure we had everything we needed and helped out where my team was struggling. I was available and responsive in discussions throughout this project.

3. How did you contribute to the service of the community with this project?

We contributed to the service of the community through provoking awareness of issues in the community. This was achieved through interviewing member of the community as well as particular business owners and the health department. Asking about possible issues both externally and health wise causes people to reflect on these topics. An example of this is asking community members what they think is a possible threat to the town and what they can improve upon.

4. Name 3 ways this project site impacts community health?

This project impact community health by raising awareness of the issues the town is facing. During this project, we spoke to several community members, business owners, and leaders to determine the preserved threats were. We went to the town and assessed ourselves as well. From this we were able to thoroughly review threats and strengths of the community and its health. Another way this project impacts community health is enhancing nursing student's understanding of all of the factors at play when looking at impacts on a community's health. There were several aspects of this project I would not have thought of when reviewing a community that I now understand. Therefore, the future nurses of communities will be knowledgeable on these topics. Another way this project impacts community health is by identifying risks to the community. We identified these risks through using our physical community assessment, online resources, and community member testimonies. A risk identified in Milford, IL is floods.

5. Name 1 way this project site could better serve the community and why?

This project could better serve the community if a community leader interested in change was identified and given a brief report to from our findings. This would be better service to the community because change would be suggested. This would also serve as a conclusion to the Windshield assessment project.

6. What health risks are experienced by the population served by this project site?

A health risk experienced by this population is sexually transmitted diseases as these rates have been rising in the area according to the health department. This supports the previously mentioned goal of health education. Heart disease, cancer, and respiratory diseases are also health risks experienced by this community as they are reported to be the leading cause of death by the health department.
