Background

Therapeutic communication is a fundamental component of nursing and is a complex concept. Ensuring positive encounters between nurses and patients is essential for improving the quality of nursing interactions, the performance of various nursing duties, and meeting patients' diverse needs (Abdolrahimi et al., 2017).

This assignment will help students feel comfortable initiating conversations with older adults and raising awareness of older persons' wishes, expectations, resources, cultural traditions, and strengths.

Additional Guidelines:

- Plagiarism will result in a zero on the assignment.
- Follow the directions within each graded section.
- A template for the interview process is provided below.
- No late work will be accepted. Late work will earn a zero.
- All assignments must be completed in Microsoft Word.
- PDF and other formats will not be accepted.

Step One: Interview process:

Step One: Directions: Each student will independently complete the Therapeutic Communication Gerontology Assignment. Students will select an older adult to interview. The interviewee may be a family member, and the interviewee does not have to be a patient. Interviews can be face-to-face, virtual, or by phone. Each interview should be a minimum of 20 minutes. Students should ask a minimum of FIVE question. Example questions are listed below. Students can phrase the questions in a conversational tone. A student may ask a question not listed below but must write down additional questions in interview process chart provided. Students are to complete the Interview Process Chart per chart directions.

Example Interview questions:

1. What are the most rewarding things about getting older? Is it a lifetime of knowledge?
2. What are the most important lessons you have learned in your life? Ask to hear the stories behind those lessons.
3. Who has influenced you the most?
4. What life advice would you pass to future generations?

5. If you could go back to any age, what would it be? Would they stay the age they are now or go back? How far back? What was life like at that time?
6. What do you remember about the place you grew up? Do they still live there, or have they visited? If so, how has it changed?
7. Which invention from your lifetime amazed you? What was life like before?
8. What was your favorite movie when you were younger?
9. What was your first job? How about your favorite?

Step Two: Interview Evaluation-Reflective Activity

Step Two Directions: After interviewing an older adult, students are to complete a self-reflective evaluation. Answer all FOUR questions listed below. Complete in full sentences with proper clarity and mechanics. Follow rubric for full guidelines.

1. What are the major take-home lessons after interviewing an older adult?
 - a. Older adults offer a lot more wisdom than any other stage in life, so it was interesting to hear what they had gone through. It also gave me a lesson about different perspectives that there is between everyone.
2. How can a nurse adapt their practice to be more responsive to the unique needs of an older adult client?
 - a. As nurses we can speak clearly, be simple, respectful, give them time to answer, etc. to have a good communication. There is also individualized care that we should be aware of because every older adult is different. They can be more particular at times, but that does not mean they are mean or anything. They have built in skills that they have done things a certain way for a long time, and it is hard for someone to just change that in a day or two, so it is important to ask before doing it the way that you want to.
3. In what way is a student building their nursing skills by interviewing patients including older adults?
 - a. It improves the student's communication skills and can also help develop critical thinking skills.
4. Reflect on one question and expand on how the communication could improve.

- a. I think maybe that I could've tried to make more small talk with my resident. At times there was some silence because I didn't really know what to say in question 4. I just kind of listened to the advice he gave me, and I was very grateful for them. However, I just didn't know how to respond to them. He was also feeling a little tired, so I didn't want to bother him more than I already was.
