Comments:

I deeply appreciate the peers in my group as they have been a consistent source of collaborative support and have promoted mutual respect and success to one another throughout my time at Lake View, whether it is a project like these or study groups for tests. Gold stars all around.

I do wish this project had been something we had been given more time on. It was very stressful and rushed having a handful of days to put this together, even with the best of teams. I feel we did an excellent job, however, and though I mean no disrespect, I absolutely must press that I feel like anywhere we came up short on scoring points had more to do with the constraints of the limited time we were given than any effort put forth by these individuals. I truly hope in future semesters of this course that this is something taken into account and the details of this assignment are provided much sooner. Respectfully. Thank you again for your consideration.
