

Journal 2

This week in clinical, I observed prioritization. When the nurse I was following received report, she went to assess the more critical patient first. She had two patients. One had cancer and was receiving palliative treatment. The other had CHF, and had severe edema everywhere. He was also on a bipap and was his ABGs were uncompensated. We went to assess this patient first, and performed the care that he needed.