Week 11

Journal of observation:

Since this is my second week to have online clinical, and I feel much better than last week. There are still some issues regarding to the inquiries, technologies, computer, and stable internet in the home. It was much better than last week.

What leadership and management skills were observed?

The skill I learned today was quality improvement care little more in depth. There are many ideas that I thought I can utilize in the change paper. I will probably complete by this weekend.
