How to build a 13-sec. bracket racer.

You don't have to have a fuel dragster to experience the thrill of competition. In fact, you can build a fast bracket racer for not a lot of money—with a Dart, Aspen or Duster, a little wrench-work and Direct Connection performance parts. The Engine and Chassis Books that you can order from Direct Connection give you all the details on race-prepping your own bracket racer for serious drag competition.

To guide the Engine and Chassis Books, write a check to Chrysler Corporation's Dodge Sport Parts Dept., Dept. 100, Dodge Performance Parts Catalog, 48133, to order a Performance Parts catalog, add $4 to your check.
