

Vanessa Walters

02/18/ 2020

2nd Assignment

Old Testament

Prof: David Emanuel

The universe is a creature that no one can explain or understand, it is beyond our knowledge. For those that know God as their savior, Lord, also accept him as Their creator. With the Word of God, creation it is well explained that the Almighty God created us in His image and created everything in the earth including the earth, and the heaven. God can be everything to His people such as be their father, mother, advocate, doctor, friend, and their one and only. He is above all and all power belongs to him and him only. God is merciful, omnipotence, and omniscience.

Omnipotence can be defined as the quality of having unlimited power, a power that is often seen to belong to one God. Exodus is all about God's power, starting from saving Moses after he being thrown into the water by order, then God showing himself to Moses in the burning bush that did not burn. Exodus 3: 2 "there the angel of the lord appeared to him in flames of fire from within a bush", and through that bush although there was a fire the bush did not burn. This verse shows that the almighty has power that no one else has, being able to present Himself through fire without getting burned neither did the place get burned that is beyond any other gods or beyond humanity. Another example that shows God has unlimited power is the fact he asked Moses to go to Egypt and take his people out of slavery then he told him what to do exactly that would make Pharaoh and the Isareel people to beleive him and set them free. ( Exodus 6:) Another passage that shows His power is beyond unlimited is Ex: 14 vs 21 where Moses stretched his hands over the sea and God send a wind and divided the sea into two section a dried one and the other side was full with the water, His people cross successfully then the sea got back to normal.

The almighty not only omnipotence but also a merciful God that does not stay mad at his children for long and He is always ready to forgive us as long as we acknowledge our mistake. We Christians as God followers and creatures born as sinners, we sin everyday sometimes without any knowledge about it, as soon we asked him for forgiveness and bow before him our sins had been forgiving. Although these people had been complaining and doing everything that wasn't in God's pleasure when they cried out to him and asked Him to deliver them He still keeps his promise and sends his servant out to get them. His love, and mercy is infinite, unlimited, and eternal. Because of his compassion and mercy he had delivered his people by taking them away from the bondage in Egypt and putting them in the promised land. Another example is Genesis 19 vs 14-16 God had delivered his people from Sodom before it was destroyed. These two passages show that no matter what we do He still loves and willing to accept us back by washing our sins away by his grace.

Omniscient happens to be another characteristic of the creator of the universe. He knows it all, without opening our mouth He knows what His children needs, wants, desire, and searching for. Before Moses got to Pharaoh He already knew everything that Pharaoh would say to Moses In exodus ch 4 God gave Moses All the instructions about all the miracles that he should perform and the prophecy that he should say that would leave Pharaoh with no other choice than believe. Second example is when God said I hear their cry and I know what they are yearning for and I will send you to deliver them (Gen 3 vs 7-8) . This shows he knows what was in their heart.

To conclude God the Creator of all and the whole universe is powerful, loving, patient, He knows all his children and his children needs. Him being omniscient, omnipotent, and merciful those are just a few of all the great characteristics He has, He is incomparable, irreplaceable, He is also beyond loving, patient, forgiving, and understandable. God is the best friend anyone could ever ask for because he does not judge or criticize.