

Stanley Hernandez

Critical thinking

February 27 2020

Chapter 4

In chapter 4 is a very interesting chapter because it gets into listening reading and watching after reading this chapter it really spoke to me as a jazz musician because as someone trying to learn the art of jazz one thing I have to do a lot is listen to other jazz musician and absorb their idea and try to understand what they are thinking and why and learn from their choices so I can know how to make mine one thing the chapter gets into is seeing others taste which is exactly how I listen to jazz when I'm studying it taste is a big think because I might not like some choices but I make like others but it's all personal it's just I got to understand why someone may have a certain taste and that's the beauty of jazz and why listening and viewing is very important because it shows how others think.