

The Calling of God into My Mission

The Calling of God into My Mission

Professor Steve Nehlsen

PM 201: Nyack Heritage

Nyack College

Angelina Bolden

March 21, 2020

The PMN 201 class was very insightful to me in that it made me reflect on how I can see the deeper things of God through His Word. This came about as I read the Four Gospels by A. B. Simpson. In the Solemn Covenant he was able to articulate what he felt about God, but he also wanted God to use him although he encountered many problems his trust was in the Lord. What mainly stood out to me was that A .B. Simpson was focus as to he believed God wanted him to do. We must have conviction through the Holy spirit to pursue what God has place in our heart that we believe is His will.

The Calling of God into My Mission

In the Four Gospels in Section V Walk with God it states, “ The life naturally leads to the walk. The term describes the course of life, the conduct, the practical life of our Christian life. The reference to the walk of our Lord Jesus Christ recalls His character and life. The character of Jesus stands out as the divinest monument of the Bible and the Gospels. (V. THE WALK WITH GOD, The Four Gospels). This signifies that the life we talk has to match the way we act and express ourselves. The Word of God will transform our lives as we meditate and talk to God in prayer about what needs to be changed in us as revealed through the Holy Spirit who guides us into all truth. We are to be more like Jesus so that the testimony is in our lives and people will see Christ in us.

A .B. Simpson was able to trust God in what was given to him. His desire to introduce individuals to Christ who was always at his heart of conviction to give the salvation message. He had the heart of a Missionary. He had to go and share the Gospel; and the Lord led his path. The class gave an understanding of how many people around the globe actually can tell you who is Jesus. In New York I was surprised that every seventh person knew about Jesus. It is important that we do the gift assessment of my calling I found that my primary gift was Teaching followed by Evangelism and then Pastoring. Presently I do co-facilitate a Women’s Ministry and we minister to the women through the women in the Bible, The women chose a woman from the Bible and discuss life decisions such as what that woman in the Bible meant to them as she studied who the woman was and their circumstances. The research helps the women find that in Bible the person is just like us but in a different era. The woman in the Bible trusted God. The women in the Woman’s Ministry learn to turn their circumstance to God. They also learned how important they are to God because He loves them. We need an encounter with God .This research helps us stay plugged into the Bible.

In Live Your Calling by Kevin and Kay Marie Brennfleck they propose a question on How much freedom do you feel that God gives you in life decisions. As I examine this question I think about how we want to look for purpose in our lives. Also I believe God gives us the desires of our heart according to because Our hearts should line up with his desires. I see that when we find what God's wants us to do to we live for Him because we find joy in what He gives us.

The Calling of God into My Mission

As I look at my experience at Nyack College I see that God has been with me. The Lord has called me to be an Evangelist. I currently preach at my Church I also head the Outreach Ministry. I had to come out of my comfort zone and allow God to help me preach. In consultation with my Pastor I am responsible to contact new Disciples so that they can take a Disciples Class to help them begin their walk wit Christ. My calling I believe is to reach people In my community and wherever I travel. I would like to see if God leads me to speak at conferences globally. I would like to write a book on how I was saved as a teenager. That is something that I would have to pray about. That would be part of my Nyack Heritage. I look at A.R. Bernard who is the CEO of Christian Cultural Center and has been impactful in the Brooklyn Community. This is a historical legacy of Nyack College.

