

Chapter1

A writing is close connection with entire of your life. Writing skills can make your life in a different way.

It can effect on your academic life, personal life, professional life.

Chapter2

There are few steps for basic writing to be a perfect writing. Also, every people or writer will spend different amount of time on each process. Some writers are strong with the developing thesis but some people not. In addition, there are three kinds of writer. If you are type "A" writer you need to spend more time to be type "B" or "c" writer to make your writing as perfect as possible.