

Fine Print Debuts New Name

By Trina McFadden

Have you heard about the newest details surrounding The Fine Print? There is now a spin-off attached to the original format; giving The Fine Print an additional name. The new name is The Fine Print and The Fine Print Too! Faculty Advisor of the 2020 edition of the book invited Nyack College students, faculty, staff, and alumni to leave their legacy in this year's publication.

While 2020 has presented everyone with memories of a lifetime; The Fine Print has allowed us to remember this time in history. It highlights the global battle with the coronavirus, the Black Lives Matter movement, yet all the while encouraging us with powerful poetry and beautiful optics taken by your very own peers and fellow school community.

Members of The Fine Print team launched their virtual event on Wednesday, September 30th, 2020 by way of YouTube. The event was live streamed and is still accessible to the Nyack College community on The Fine Print's YouTube channel.

I also had the privilege of interviewing the Faculty Advisor, Professor Beverley C. Locke, and was able to get the inside scoop on how the name The Fine Print Too became part of this year's edition. I asked Professor Locke how she came up with the name. She responded with, "I have a wonderful team... It was very important to keep the tradition of the original piece but we also wanted to have a platform for new emerging types [of] art."

The Fine Print Too was designed to capture the essence of modern creativity and live art. There are QR codes in this year's edition that will allow you to see and hear the artist(s) perform their work(s). The book can be viewed online. Visit The Fine Print's YouTube channel to obtain the link for your enjoyment.