

1. The three criteria I chose are “ It is consistent with the purpose values and ethics of the profession “ this is important because the code of ethics provides guidance for a social worker and it explains how a social worker should act in certain situations .it also acts as a guide and a reference for a social worker to refer to if they are in a challenging situation . it is also important because a social worker who doesn't understand the purpose and value of a profession is one who won't be successful and one who won't be fully able to help out their client. ‘Its key concepts principles and terminology are clearly described and defined , and it rests on an empirical foundation”.These two criteria are very important because social workers must have a full understanding of the profession and know all of the terminology in order to fully explain to their client . in other words knowledge is another key to being a successful social worker they must study constantly in order to explain the proper resources terminology and even theories to the client .

2. Program approach , teamwork model, rational model and the power politics model
Respond to the questions below based on your review of Ch 7 Using Evidence in the Change Process

3. “Clients deserve social workers who will think critically about the concerns they want to address and will search out and apply interventions that have been evaluated and found effective”

“Another aspect of evidence-based assessment seeks to learn more about the client population being served.”

4. Describe the differences between evidence-based assessment-This assessment focuses on the clients situation and or problem and or it can also focus on the Client group or population .in this assessment the social worker will use theories or data to better serve the client , evidence-based intervention-In this intervention The social worker chooses approaches that were successful with other clients . so if they have a client in a similar situation they researched the best methods and interventions to help that client based off of the success rate but this doesn't guarantee that it will work .

evidence-based evaluation=In this evaluation the social worker has to prove why the intervention was chosen for the specific client based off of the evidence they must also be able to explain why it will be effective for the client
