1. This song displays the qualities of the God of Clouds. The sincere intensity that an individual has towards God, and whereby God counters to an individual's praise by the music of person and God.
2. The core cultural morals that affect the Chinese individual's character are peace, kindness, devotion, compassion, enlightenment, faith, and integrity. There exist three primary religions in China; they are Confucianism, Buddhism, and Taoism. All these religions play a significant part in the core values of China. Before the conflict, service before liberty, compliance before benefits, community before self, and peace is what China stands for.
