What Others Believe

What do others believe, and how does it compare to what you believe. Your breakout groups will research that answer and present to the class your findings. You are to search the web for original sites where at all possible. In other words, look to research sites that represent the belief system you are interested in. Stay away from Wikipedia – look to incorporate web sites that end in .org, .edu, or .net. Indicate your web site or web sites when you present your findings.
