Note: Bold is the company I want to work with and the non bolded one are ideas that could possibly be used.

Parking finder:

Helps people find parking spots around their location or where they want to go and shows the list of free parking and paid parking locations and the price and time they can park with notifications when they need to move their car, if they chose free parking area.

Example:

Parkgene

Game Tracker:

Helps keep track of how long you spent playing specific games. Will add the feature to input your schedule like class times, work and etc. The purpose is to see how much time you spend on video games and help the user see how their schedule impacts how much games they play to help them see if video games are the reason for being tired or if their grade falls or if they are not performing well in work.

Example:

Couldn't find a specific example to this.
