

Jonathan Cheon

Excuse me sir,

Have you ever watched Mcguiver or Pokemon growing up?

My name is Jonathan Cheon and just like Mcguiver and Ditto from Pokemon, I can be a creative, adaptive, multitool for your company

Over the past decade, I have moved from country to country to cultivate a wide variety of skills, including but not limited to my military experience, store management, custom building PCs, and even working at a data center.

You may be wondering why your startup needs a guy like me. While every HR rep is hiring people with an expertise in one section, my expertise is my knowledge in different fields and my ability to learn and be molded.

When you hire me, you are buying my flexibility and adaptability.

My name is Jonathan Cheon, and I can be the missing link to your startup.
