

Immersion Proposal

I will preface this by saying that because I am going to be between two countries; I can only go the digital route.

I would like to join the website www.communityrenewsociety.org. This is an LGBTQ friendly website that has a lot of information. I have a series of lectures on the site that I am going to join. I then am going to reach out to recruiters and interview them.

The first reason I am choosing this group is that I have a problem with identifying the community like it's a race. I do not believe that a homosexual is the same thing as being a minority race. I grew up using discriminating names about homosexual people. I am ashamed of myself Dr. Locke. That is not what I want in my heart. I say this crying because I want to understand. I hope it will change how I view their persecution just like any other groups. I love people individually always. So why is it that I am not comfortable around the community. I do not want to hide behind my religion. Jesus would eat with a homosexual and would invite anyone no matter what. I was to work on my heart. I want to immerse myself in the LGBTQ+ community so I can become a better therapist and better Child of God.
