

The covid vaccine becomes mandatory in New York.

In September 2021, the covid vaccine became mandatory for all teachers and doctors in the state announced by Governor Hochul this Tuesday. After the arrival of the vaccine against covid, we have seen how the country has reacted to the need for it, and every day it becomes more mandatory in the state.

For 55,000 health workers more than 35,000 refuse to receive this vaccine. As of this Monday, September 27, all health department workers are obliged to receive the vaccine since otherwise they will be removed from their workplaces, more than 41,500 hospital workers agreed to be vaccinated for fear of losing their job almost 13,000 nursing home nurses and 1,100 other workers in adult care centers received the vaccine on September 20 and this leads to the general rate reaching almost 90% of health department workers already possessing the vaccine. and with the security of still having their jobs.

On the other side, we have almost more than 34,000 workers, they have not received this vaccine or intend to do so, they are nowhere near losing their jobs. That reflects the loss of nearly 10% of medical workers; the mandate required medical workers to receive at least the first dose of COVID-19 vaccines by Monday night. More than 25,400 hospital workers were medically eligible for vaccines but declining to do so, while about 8,200 nursing home workers were doing the same.

After the beginning of the school year, many schools are requesting vaccines against covid 19 to enter schools, Teachers do not agree that they are forced to be vaccinated to work and after this many are being fired from their jobs and / or being informed of getting the vaccine to be able to work in schools, thousands of parents show their dissatisfaction with the fact that it is being considered to vaccinate children under 17 years of age. With the arrival of autumn and the flu season, the school season is mostly affected and with more reason the state places orders to obtain the covid vaccine as soon as possible, The state of New York has 63.47% of people completely vaccinated until September 28 and after the new orders of the governor it may continue to increase in the coming days.

In the city of New York, Governor Hochul takes serious measures in the state to try not to spread the cases of covid 19, Stadiums, Restaurants, Parks and more now request to have the vaccination card to be able to enter the establishments, it is also joined by the mandatory use of cover mouths in transport areas, in the trains they are placing fines of up to 50 dollars for not using masks. The state is presenting a high rate of people who do not want to get the vaccine.

Around the entire city there are various places to get the vaccine against the covid, to take tests and distribute masks in order to control this pandemic.
