

Diana Marte

CRJ 342: Punishment and Corrections

Professor Kimble

October 22, 2021

Link It

As I was reading the text American Corrections and watching the video What Rights Do Prisoners Have – one of the main topics regards to the rights of prisoners. In the text, it had focused on the abuses that go around the prison which is known for brutality and inhuman physical conditions. In the case of an incident that occurred, throwing a prisoner in a predicament in which they could be assaulted, murdered, or rape, homosexual conduct was declared as unconstitutional. While in the video – it was mainly focused on different types of equal protection such as in a circumstance where racial segregation can occur to avoid gang violence and it has always been difficult to prove.