

Shealaine Scott

Home work Chapter3

02/05/2022

1. Jim's grades and his father's perception: May be Jim is an average student whose capabilities of maintaining average grades. Jim father may have been an over achiever and now he has a "self-fulfilling" prophecy of his son. He wants His son to be him. Sometimes parents can't force their children to get good grades.

2. Jim will need to have a better "self-concept"- how he thinks about himself regarding his education. Also, a better "personal construct"- mental yardstick. Jim has to also work on less time in parties and more time in parties.

3. Jim has to understand that there's no time to waste money, he must understand the value of is education and apply himself.

4. Father has to setting his expectations upon his son and Jim need to work with is father and apply himself more.