

Eraissa Lora

Week 11 Exercises

Exercise 1

On the (definite article) first flight (common count noun) back to the (definite article) US (proper noun) from South Korea (proper noun), I realized that my ears did not pop due to the (definite article) air pressure inside the (definite article) plane cabin. I was able to thank God (proper noun) for the (definite article) absence of pain during the (definite article) trip to and from Korea (proper noun).

Exercise 4

- a. Have you seen the film that just won the award for best picture? Structural Use
- b. I did a grammar course last year. My friend is going to do the course next year.
Situational Use
- c. What is the governor doing about unemployment? Cultural Use

Exercise 5

- a. Coffee is a stimulant.
 - i. General phrase about coffee being a stimulant but it is not specifying what coffee stimulates.
- b. I'd like a coffee, please.
 - i. This statement is in the form of a direct request.
- c. The coffee here is good.
 - i. The tone for this sentence is more matter-of-factly about where “here” is in the sentence.
- d. This cafe has dozens of different coffees.

- i. This sentence can also be subjective to be compared to other cafes that might also have dozens or more different coffees.