- 1. Descriptor of your spirit: when you take the best of your human spirit and the Holy Spirit, what does that look like? I want the Father to say about me that she did justice, loved mercy, and walked humbly before her God.
- 2. Dream: What is the best of you that is to come? What's the best of what you've been given when it plays out? My dream is to speak the truth of the gospel before America's broken (churched and unchurched), inviting them into deeper believing, feeling, whole identities-- one living space at a time. Taking the sum of the small wins and large ones to promote a “leaner, far more robust, culturally savvy, and theologically literate church” (Tennent, Introduction to World Missions, 47).
- 3. What are two things you'll implement in the next six months, and how? In the next six months I hope to identify and secure at least six ministry friends who will walk with me throughout my journey and calling in Christ and I plan to do so by leveraging my initial cohort of seminary colleagues and deepen my current relationships with partners in missions to establish a lifelong friendship of accountability and trust. I also plan to begin being invitational in the mundane moments of life by initiating talks with those whom I encounter on an everyday basis. I plan to do this by being more assertive (courageous!) in passing moments with strangers and by using inclusive language when I greet them or otherwise interact with them so that it leaves room enough for a casual witness of the joy of the family of Jesus Christ. To plant or to water and watch God give the increase.
