Descriptor of your Spirit:

A few years ago I sent a text to my Uncle Rick (a retired Pastor who reminds me so much of Dr. Sanders!) asking for a phone number, he responded by sharing the contact directly from his phone. The contact transferred over as “Confident Cloey”. I responded asking him if he named everyone in his phone like this. He responded “no, just some”. I eagerly asked “what am I saved as?!” hoping I wasn’t just “Ashleigh”. He responded with my contact, “Anointed Ashleigh”. I was shocked! I was expecting awesome, amazing, maybe even adorable (ha). He went on to share the contacts he gives describing names in his phone he prays that descriptor over their lives regularly. He prays confidence over Cloeys life and ministry, he prays Anointing over my life and ministry. I’ve never considered a descriptor of my spirit but I’m thankful for praying men like my Uncle Rick to pray over me, and remind me God has anointed me. When I take the best God has given my human spirit and the best of the Holy Spirit it looks like an anointed voice manifesting the Spirit of God.

Dream:

My dream is to develop passionate discipleship minded leaders who develop other passionate discipleship minded leaders (and have fun while doing it!).

Implementation:

1. I will take care of my own soul by staying active in the Word, active in my studies, active in my community, active with my family, and active with my physical body.
2. I will explore (and hopefully find) my prophetic voice!
