Introduction

Hey everyone,

My name is Ahuoma Chukwueke. I am born and raised in Brooklyn, NY. I am also a first generation Nigerian- American. Both of my parents are from Nigeria. I am a nursing major at Alliance. I would say that Jesus is my rock and my friend. I am able to pray to Him and he always answers. He is also a good confidant who steers me in the right directions and teaches me how to love others. In my life, I dream of being a NICU nurse/ nurse practitioner. I would love to spread the gospel in missionary work around the world, and create content that shows the beauty of living a life with Jesus at the center. One person that I admire is my mom she is hard worker. My mom is also a nurse and I have seen how she has been able to change her familys life with her education and her ambition.
