Where i'm from Poem

I am from America, I've never lived in a state for more than 10 years, the most was 7 years in a state, that is the life of a military brat. I was born in Puerto Rico and lived there for 6 years before my dad moved the family to the United States. I've lived in Georgia, Texas, North Carolina, New York and California. Within those states my family has revisited some of them more than once, some states only once. Where I'm from has always been a tricky question so I just say I'm from the East Coast. I have had the privilege of seeing different cultures and ways of life in all the states i've lived in which gives me a unique perspective and understanding of people and how they live.
