

Where I'm from poem

Akwaaba !, Akwaaba which means “welcome.”

The Black Star of Africa

Dear friends, I have more news for you;

Welcome to the land of my birth

Where I'm from there is full of natural resources and a beautiful gold found in centuries

With the sound of proclamation, it sat on a stool,

Craft with integrity, humanity, generosity, peace and humbleness

It has the coat of many colors,

My flag is Red, Gold (yellow) Green and the black star. And each color has a meaning?

Red represents the blood of those who died in the country's struggle for independence.

Gold represents the mineral wealth of the country.

Green symbolizes the country's rich forests.

The Black Star stands for the lodestar of African Freedom.

With the rhythms of a feel, of its high-life music.

Its people are always proud to dance and sing along.

Fufu is our best meal. Kente is one of our cloth

When the wind blows its sweet voice to the atmosphere

A queen in nature, with an eloquent boldness

Who trades with excellence, purity and maturity of pure values?

A hope in the weave basket of fascinations

The pin in the flesh which never hurts, is my country Ghana.

The first sun in springtime, a fresh nation and a giant step towards freedom and justice.

Shine like a pearl,

Here comes the sun.

Ghana is free forever.

Akwaaba to Ghana.
