Who am I?

My name is Naïma Saint-Fleurant, and I am 20. I was born and raised in Haiti, and I still live here. I'm majoring in Biology. I'm interested in music and medicine, and I started making beats to pass the time. I like reading, dancing, and singing although I'm not a great singer, most of all I like listening to music. I have several genres that I listen to, but for now, I mostly listen to Christian songs and K-Pop songs. I also make bracelets to wear, and sometimes I sell them. As many Christians would say, Jesus is my savior, and most of all, he is my brother. Since 7th grade, I have dreamt of becoming a surgeon, but my hatred for blood led me to center my study on dentistry instead. But like many first years students, I am still unsure of what I want to do with my life. Even though you have asked for one person, I want to name two, and they are my sisters. I admire them for their courage, for they have already accomplished many things, and I am proud of them. They are passionate about what they are doing, and one of these days, I hope to be like them.
