

Hello everyone,

My name is Yvrose Ulysse. I am currently an LPN (licensed practical nurse).

1. I am originally from Haiti. I currently live on Long Island.
2. I am majoring in Psychology.
3. To me, Jesus is my anchor, my savior, my friend, my everything.
4. With my life, I dream to use the skills and talents that God has blessed me with to help people both physically and mentally. This is why I am excited to be part of the psychology program, to use the knowledge of God and psychology to help people in all ways.
5. One person I admire is my mother. She is currently 85 years old and all my life her strength in all situations has been something I have admired and try to emulate in everything I do.
